Editor Torrance Herald: The writer and his neighbors have been given a kindly welcome to the newly formed Christian Science services now being held on Sundays and Wednesdays in a C. S. hall south of Carson street.

As Keystone is sunburnt and far-fung, with no direct car line, it would be appreciated if friends with cars would call for neighbors or Sunday school children.

We are few and scattered, and was it not for the fact that Christian Science has a real different angle or viewpoint of the same old Bible that all the other churches have and teach in common, the writer for one would deplore the fact of still one more new church and Sunday school for Torrance, to divide its Christian people and their families.

But as the Christian Science message to this age is vital, as we see it, we bow to the unavoidable and welcome our Christian Science friends to accept the kindly call from Torrance to meet them in their new Christian Science society and Sunday school there.

This will not proselyte from other places of Christian worship, who all have one and the same Bible, although they have different interpretations of the same and expect different results from the same book.

Many of us here at Keystone have been so long separated from common comforts and the convenience of cars, walks, lights, et cetera, that we feel a little outlandish, and so welcome the coming of The Torrance Herald with its clean news and unifying uplift, notes and notices of different churches and Sunday schools, who all endeavor to repeat Jesus' divine appeal to "Have faith in God" and to "Love our neighbors," so as to preach the gospel and heal the sick.

In answer to the church notice and welcome call, I found my way to the then new M. E. Sunday school and church of Torrance. Later the Baptists gladly accepted the use of my cabin for a Keystone Bible school, until they found a better place to meet. But all with the same Bible as the ever-present "Word of God" and gospel of Jesus Christ—and they help to build each other up.

This is just a voice from Keystone, a personal letter, only a Keystone need expressed through The Torrance Herald.

A. L. PARSONS.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest J. Young and family, of Cota avenue, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Sexton of Anaheim.
